Summer Reading Assignment

Your summer reading assignment is the great French classic Les Miserables. Hugo was a brilliant writer and social critic. I'd like you to annotate in your book for the following things:

- The development of Jean Valjean's character
- Jean Valjean's name(s)
- Social critique/commentary
- Grace v. justice

Hugo took seventeen years to write this book, and he went on a few tangents that your kind and benevolent teacher will not make you read this summer.

Please skip the following sections:

- "Waterloo" p. 301-352
- Chapter 1 of "The Old Gorbeau House" (Cosette, Book Fourth), p. 428-434
- "Petit-Picpus" (Cosette, Book Sixth), p. 478-508
- "A Parenthesis" (Cosette, Book Seventh) p. 509-523
- "Argot" (St. Denis, Book Seventh) p. 979-1002
- "June 5, 1832" (St. Denis, Book Tenth) p. 1047-1068
- "The Intestine of Leviathan" p. 1256-1275

Because the events of this text can be confusing, I would also like you to read an article summarizing the historical context before you begin reading. It can be found at the link below.

We will have graded discussions and a test on this book in the fall. I will also collect your books to look at your annotations.

Enjoy!
